THE TAYLOR WILL CASE.

Two Millions of Bollars Involved-Two Witnemes Who Signed the Will, but Never Divulged the Fact-Interesting Testimony.

The hearing in the contested will case of the late James B. Taylor was commenced yesterday, before surrogate Robert C. Hutchings. There was a very endance of witnesses and interested specrs. friends or the litigants in the case.

The dreumstances of the absence of the will, the search after it and its subsequent discovery between the leaves of a book in deceased's office, have already been published. That will is now contested by Mrs. Kate Howland, granddaughter of the deceased, who has filed objections thereto, claiming that it was defectively executed, that, deceased was of ansound mind when he executed it, and, if executed by ...im, was procured to be made by Laura S.

Mrs. Howland was represented by Mr. Vanderpoel and Mr. Clinton, and Mrs. Teylor by Mr. Stoughton and Mr. Andrews.

TESTIMONY OF A WITNESS TO THE WILL The first witness called was Mr. Edward Wetherill, one of the witnesses to the will, who testified that te was well acquainted with Mr. Taylor; that callsaid, "How do you do, Ned?" he walked in and topped a few minutes, when Mr. Taylor put aside writing he was engaged in, and opening drawer, said, "There's my will, I want you to sign it;" he beckoned somebody in the outside office, and presently Mr. Jackson came; Mr. Taylor said to him, "I want you to sign this with Ned;" he signed his name; I signed mine, and he signed his; I dropped some ink; he said, "You are a careless fel-

The proponents here rested.

THE MURDER CALENDAR.

Sentence Passed Upon Thomas Speridan for the Murder of Michel-Also Upon Quian for the Murder of Reischer-Quinn Gets Fifteen Years in the State Prison, Sheridan Three

The Court of Over and Terminer was again greatly crowded yesterday morning by persons interested in trials for murder which were brought before the Court.

Court.

THE SHERIDAN-MODEL NURDER.

Thomas Sheridan, who, it will be remembered, was indicted for the nurrier of Damel Michel on the 25th of June last, and who, on Wednesday last, pleaded guilty to manishaughter in the third degree, was brought before the Court yesterday for sentence, this counsel read several allidavits, which had been made under cath, all of which testified that up to the time of his arrest he had borne an excellent character.

Indee lagrahum, refers pessing sentence diluted the time of his arrest he had borne an excellent character.

Audge Ingraham, octore passing sentence, dilated very fully upon the great evils produced by the excessive use of infoxeating liquor. Sheridan, he said, was only one of the many who lost everything that was worth having in this world by its use. The factor his having received a good education only tended to enhance the enormity of the crime with which he was charged. It was a fortunate thing for him that the case had not gone to the curry; they might have found him guily of murder, and the creatt of this would have been his expiating the crime with his life. As it was he must go to the State Prison for three years.

John Quinn, who was indicted on the charge of fourdering David Reisober, en the 12th of September last, was next piaced at the bar. His counsel, W. F. Howe, read a number of antidavits setting forth the good character of the prisoner up to the time of the fracas which resulted in the death of Reischer. Unlike the first prisoner, Sheritan, his client was enarcy without education, and what he did in this matter was while under the induence of strong drink. The Judge said this, like the previous case, was very lamentable. Although the Ignorance of the prisoner was to be deplored, still he must have known the misery and punishment for such a crime as murdering a quiet passer-by on a public thoroughfare.

The sentence of the Court was that he should be sent to the State Prison for fifteen years.

H. Manhuell, who was charged with stealing a plece of cassimere from the store of C. H. Frey, No. 4s Leonard street, was sentenced to three months in the Fenitentiary.

THE NEW YORK CANALS.

The Canal Question in the Pending Canvass-The Republican Party Warned of Noglest at Saratoga.

An issue is taken with the republican party in the State on the canal question, one of the most impor-tant to the internal commercial interests that enters into the canvass. The Canal Funding bill, which passed the New York Legislature at its last session, by a provision of that act is to be submitted to the people at the November election for their approval or disapproval. Senator Conkling, as Chatrman of the Committee on Resolutions at the State Republican Convention, recently held at Saratoga, prepared the series which he presented to the Convention and which that body unanimously adopted. The whole subject of canals is ignored, except to charge the democratic party with "mismanagement of the canals." The republican party proposes to do nothing. The Democratic Convention was em-phatic in its endorsement of the Funding bill. Mr. Joseph Carley, a prominent republican of Buffalo, addresses a lotter to Senator Conking repudiating the action of the Saratoga Convention, and notices the Senator that the canal interest of the State was practically ignored by the convention; that the re-publican ticket is foredoomed by that fact; that he shall not vote for it, and that the vote of the party will be lessened in this canvass forty-five or lifty thousand votes in consequence of the course taken by the Committee on Resolutions. He says that men on the commercial pursuits on the lakes and canals have been neglected by the republican party long enough, and will now support the party that will benefit their interests. This is plain talk and means business.

lars, and annual payments for the canal revenues are required to the amount of more than four millions. The bill distributes the payments over a term of eighteen years, and persuits a reduction of the annual revenue levied on the canal to about eighteen bundred thousand dollars. Meantime the Legislature has concurred in the timely resolution, recommended by the Comptroller, making liberal advances towards a free canal policy, in pursuance of which the State of New York will levy only such toils on freight passed through the caual as will suffice to repay the cost of construc-tion, and when that debt has been discnarged will grant passage through it free from all charges whatever, except such as may be necessary to pay the necessary. Although the production and expor-from 08,000 tons in 1802 and so,000 in 1800 to only 6,000 tons in 1809.

In the last eight years the tennage of grain and flour sent by way of the canal has decreased from 12,02,231 tons to 1,302,813. Part of this disfinition is owing to the return of peace and the resopening of the Southern roures from the West, but the loss has continued since the war was ended and the tennage was less in 1869 than in any other of the eight continued.

country, must also suffer.

By cheapening the cost of transportation from the interior we practically bring hearer together producers and consumers of all classes in the East and West. We give the exporters of domestic articles better means of competing with foreigners in neutral markets. Flour, beet, &c., and the necessaries of life will be more enaily purchased by all classes of our population. Trade generally from this city to the West will be summated. The reduction of tolks and the improvement of the great water highways between the ocean and the great miand seas will encourage every branch of industry, and is no less due to the Western States than profitable to ourselves. The party in this State that ignores the great canal interest will softer therepy. The Republican Convention at Sarafoga made a mistake in treating the subject with so much tudiference.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

The effect of the Treasury programme of bond purchases in excess of gold sales has had a direct nection in the course which the money market followed to-day, as shown in the subsidence of the ctivity which was the feature of the previous day. During the entire hours of business the demand was quite sharp at six to seven per cent, the latter figure After two o'clock, however, the government dis-bursement of about $2,250,000 in currency in payment for the five-twenties purchased the day previdenly found themselves pleatifully supplied at five to aix per cent, while some of the banks were offering balances to the government dealers at four per cent. The irregularity and wide range of four to seven per cent were quite a novelty after the long ess which has characterized the rate on call loans. That the theory of an easy money market at seven or less than seven per cent the balance of the fall is well founded seems borne out by the reports from Chicago, where exchange on New York is quoted at ½ to ½ premium, with sales at ½, the demand for remittances being quite active, owing to the fact that the West, as a rule, has bought its dry bence the current of money is in this direction. Could we make this arrangement of business every year it would prevent a recurrence of the usual fall stringency, for the reason that the cotton exports from this time forward supply us with more than ample means with which to meet the Western time the Western grain markets are becoming active under orders from the Atlantic ports, where shipments should counterbalance each other-that of money and of grain-it would enrich the West, making it able to pay readily for the dry goods bought in the East, and at the same time leave New York amply supplied with funds for her own great financial wants. Commercial paper is steady at 734 a 834 per cent for actual sales of prime double

The disavowal of the Napoleonic manifesto by the prisoner at Withelmshöhe, and the prospect of a prolonged and flerce war in France, assisted by the actual scarcity of cash gold, rendered the gold mar-ket firm to-day, in the face of a further weakening in exchange, and advanced the price from 113 to 113%. The eye of steamer day led to a fairly active business in sterling, but the supply of commercial bills overpowered the bankers, whose rates ranged from 108% a 108% for sixty day and 109% a 109% for sight drafts, with sales of prime at the intermediate quotation. Cable transfers were quoted 109%. The course of the gold market is shown in the table:

STOCKS STRONG AND ACTIVE.
The stock market was strong, with the volume of business largely increased and the tone of the market firm. Dealings were well distributed, and the brokers quite cheerful over the revived activity. The best prices were made at the close of the day. The recent weakness in Hannibal and St. Joseph of the preferred stock have instituted proceedings to prevent the payment of the dividend of three and a half per cent from the earnings of the latter half of the current year, as declared at the annual meeting of the directors. Some knotty points are inbeen no question of the equal right of both kinds of stock to share in the earnings after seven per cent had been paid, according to guarantee, on the preferred and seven per cent dividend on the common.
